

Welcome to the National Interoperability Information eXchange

- The National Public Safety Telecommunications Council (NPSTC), at the request of several Statewide Interoperability Planning Committees, is offering a service (www.NIIX.org) that includes tools to assist states with the development of their statewide communications interoperability plans.
- NIIX provides a centralized clearinghouse for interoperable communications-related information. Interoperability planning committee members can access peer-created documents and share information with each other. NIIX represents a collaborative effort of local, tribal, state, and regional organizations to share statewide plans, agreements, policy documents and other related information through a web-based, secure location.

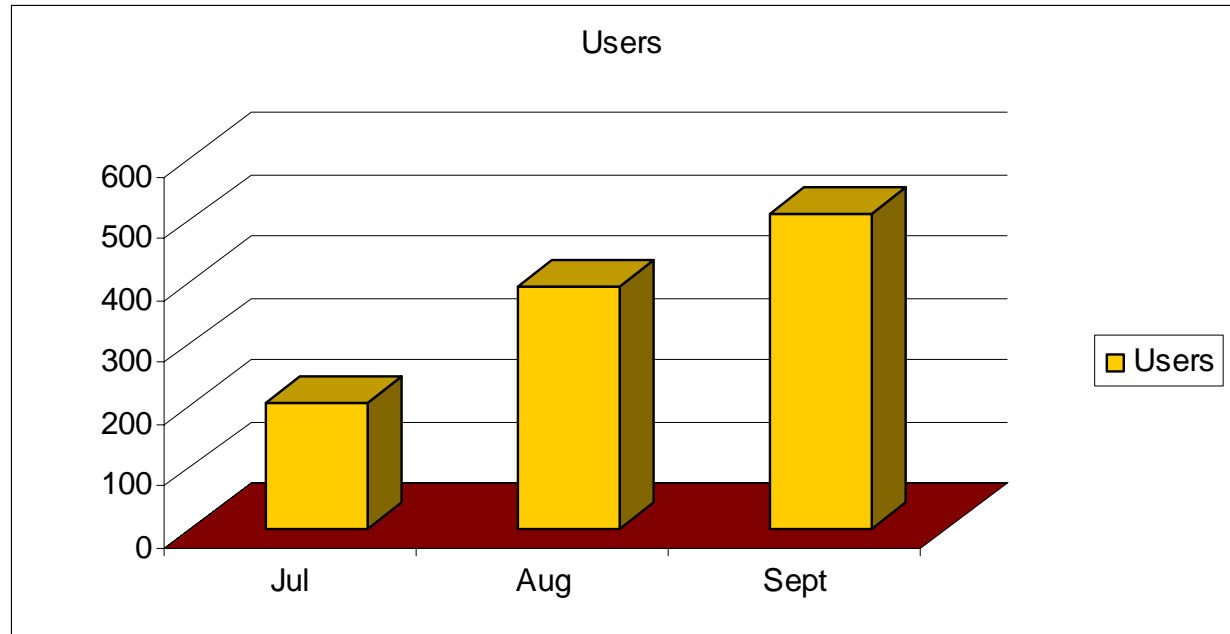

NIIX Services

- Centralized access to peer-supplied documents, including various plans, agreements, governance, policy, legislation, SOPs, funding and other useful documents
- Ability for members to submit documents to a national library for sharing with peers
- Security and authentication ensures that only members with appropriate authorization have access to sensitive planning documents

NIIX Community Services

- Collaborative section will allow Statewide/regional administrators to access state/regional sub-communities, with the ability to securely manage and share draft documents, solicit comments, and manage member notification and feedback
- Automatic notification of document uploads for comment and review
- Contact list of other NIIX community members
- Calendar and event announcements

After you type www.niix.org into your browser, this will be the home page that you see. Let's take a tour around the information contained here. We see a welcome message, current events, "what's new", FAQ's and related links.

The screenshot shows the NIIX website home page. At the top, there is a banner with the NIIX logo and the text "National Interoperability Information eXchange" and "A SERVICE OF NPSTC". The NPSTC logo is also present in the top right corner. Below the banner, there is a "Member Login" section with fields for "Username" and "Password", a "Go" button, and a "Register for NIIX" button. To the right of the login section is a "WELCOME to the National Interoperability Information eXchange" message. Below this message is a paragraph of text: "The National Public Safety Telecommunications Council (NPSTC) is providing NIIX as a free service to the interoperability planning community. You will find tools here to assist you with the development of your statewide communications interoperability plans. NIIX provides a centralized, secure warehouse for interoperable communications related information. Registered NIIX members can access peer-created documents and share information with each other. Members can also use NIIX tools to collaborate in the creation and management of their statewide plans. We hope you find NIIX useful. Please send us your comments and suggestions as you use this site. We value your feedback." Below the welcome message is a section titled "Events and Announcements" with the following text: "NIIX Phase Two is now in LIVE OPERATION. (for more information about new features, go to What's New)" and "State Planning Sessions and Workshops: Colorado SCIP Workshop August 15-16, 2007, Tennessee SCIP Workshop August 16, 2007, North Carolina SCIP Workshop August 20-21, 2007, Minnesota and Hawaii SCIP Workshops August 22-23, 2007, Florida, Texas and Washington SCIP Workshops August 28-29, 2007, Ohio SCIP Workshop August 29-30, 2007, Oklahoma SCIP Workshop September 12-13, 2007, Wisconsin SCIP Workshop September 13, 2007". To the right of the "Events and Announcements" section are three buttons: "What's New?", "Frequently Asked Questions", and "Related Links". Below the "Events and Announcements" section is a button labeled "Why register for NIIX?". At the bottom left of the page is a button labeled "About NPSTC" with the NPSTC logo. At the bottom of the page is a navigation bar with links: "Home | About NPSTC | About NIIX | Terms of Service | Privacy | Accessibility | Security | Links | Help | Contact Us".

The Main page allows you to access documents and members on the national level. Just check a radio button and click a state. You can also see all documents listed by category in the tree on the left hand side of the page.

The screenshot shows the NIIIX National Interoperability Information eXchange website. The header includes the NIIIX logo and the NPSTC logo. Below the header, there is a navigation bar with links for Home, Main, and Community, and a user profile section for Demo Coordinator. The main content area is titled "Four Corners Region Community Home" and includes a "Community Admin" link. A calendar for August 2007 is displayed, with the 16th, 22nd, and 29th highlighted. The page also features a "Recent Documents" section and a "Documents by Category" list. A footer contains various utility links and the text "NIIIX is a Service of the National Public Safety Telecommunications Council".
